Extension $350.00	If the applicant is unable to finalize the subdivision within one year from the date of the decision, an extension may be requested. The extension request and fee must be received before the file expires. Once a file has expired, an extension request cannot be processed, and a new subdivision application will be required.

Additional Costs Associated with the Subdivision Process

Application fees are only one of the costs associated with the subdivision of land. When planning your subdivision, it is important to consider all potential costs associated with the process.

The information provided below is intended to provide potential applicants with an understanding of some of the common costs associated with subdividing land in Alberta.

Surveying Costs	Surveying is often required to show the location of structures, prepare plans and to register documents with the Land Titles Office. The Alberta Land Titles Act requires an Alberta Land Surveyor (ALS) to be retained for this purpose. Surveyors should be contacted directly for estimates related to these services.
Municipal Reserves	Municipal Reserve (and other forms of reserves) may be taken at time of subdivision in accordance with the Municipal Government Act. Reserves may be required to be provided as either land or cash-in-lieu of land. The land's market value may be assessed/appraised to determine its value.
Municipal Services	All costs associated with municipal services are (normally) the responsibility of the developer. This includes costs associated with municipal/regional services and franchise utilities. Some municipalities may require the payment of off-site levies at the time of subdivision or development to support local infrastructure and service delivery.
Land Titles Office	The Land Titles Office of Service Alberta requires fees for the issuance of new titles. These fees are paid to the Land Titles Office when the survey instrument is submitted for registration. An Alberta Land Surveyor will be able to provide information about this process.
Statutory Plan and/or LUB Amendments	Amendments to either the Municipal Development Plan (MDP), Area Structure Plan (ASP), and/or Land Use Bylaw (LUB) may be required when a proposed subdivision does not conform to the district or policies within one (or more) statutory plan or the LUB. Actual costs and timelines are dependent on the number of amendments required and complexity of the proposal.
Professional Studies and Reports	For some subdivisions, additional information may be required depending on the characteristics of the site and the complexity of the subdivision. Additional information may be requested if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The site or proposal has considerations that may require Federal or Provincial approvals. It is necessary to determine the location and area of suitable building pocket(s). Examples of professional studies and reports include:
	Geotechnical Report	Historic Resource Act Clearance or Approval	Wetland Assessment	Biophysical Assessment	Private Sewage Disposal System Inspection
	Real Property Report	Preliminary Engineering Study	Traffic Impact Assessment	Phase I and/or II Environmental Assessment	Top of Bank Definition by Survey
